UNDERSTANDING

PEOPLE ARE PEOPLE

When I arrived in Minden my first endeavour was to relay the message that God's love was for all, and also to relay the message that I loved the people of Minden and district. This love is not based upon feeling, it is based upon truth, and the truth is, we are all basically the same. We are all people.

I also said that I believed the people of Minden and district loved one another and their ministers. This too is based upon truth. And the truth is all people are basically loving human beings.

But you say why then do we quarrel and have divisions?

PEOPLE ARE THE SAME AND ALSO DIFFERENT

Why do we have divisions? Because although we are basically the same, we are also different. We are raised under different circumstances; a second child has a different environment than the first child. Some have been raised by overpossessive parents, or too loose a parent, etc.

The prosperity of our community has its effect even the geography of the place we are raised, affects our lives. As we grow into adult life our individual lives are affected by environment and also by our age, so whilst we are basically the same, we are also different. It is this difference that we must understand.

THE GOAL OF A BETTER LIFE

The goal of life is as Jesus taught and demonstrated "perfect love": We have not reached this goal, it is a future state but whilst we seek it, we should realize that "understanding" is a very necessary aspect of love. So let us make "understanding" our aim. It is not easy to understand, not even for a minister, but we shall try. A minister does not always understand the needs of all of his people thus he often neglects care and respect for all people. I personally have failed in this way many times, but I continue to make love my aim. Sometimes our understanding becomes better slowly. Sometimes a crisis is necessary to give us understanding. But what a minister and people need to know is that "perfect love" is still a future state, and love and understanding is merely our aim.

The day has come when a crisis between the people and the minister has arisen. What is important here? A change of minister? Not necessarily! The important item is for minister and people to understand one another.

If the minister has failed to understand the needs of the people he must accept this fact, and endeavour to change. If the people have failed to understand the minister they must accept this fact and try to change. Understanding is our aim. The change should come from within the heart of all concerned. The change should come because of love and understanding. Let us remember our Lord was crucified not because of wickedness, as we sometimes understand wickedness, but because of a lack of understanding. He prayed on the cross to this effect. "Father forgive them because they understand not."

ADVERTISING BALLOON

NOT UFO

Early in the fall, Mrs. Garfield Boldt found a small inflated balloon in her garden with a tag attached. She sent the balloon to the address on the tag and received a letter on November 16 from Jack Keller, Grand Rapids Michigan. He thanked Mrs. Boldt for returning the balloon.

Following is the report from the Grand Rapids newspaper.

"It probably caused all sorts of excitement as an UFO (unidentified flying object) suspect, but a small penny balloon, one of about 30 released by a Grand Rapids car agency last September, flew all the way to Kinmount, Ontario where it landed in a garden some 500 miles away."

Howard Christians, sales manager for Jack Keller Ford, and the man who sent the balloons free as part of a new models promotion at the agency, was most surprised when he received a letter dated October 21, from Mrs. Garfield Boldt, of Kinmount which told of finding the balloon with the agencies address written across it.

"We are about 100 miles north of Toronto and about 350 miles from Windsor" she said in her letter. "And since Windsor is about 150 miles from Grand Rapids, it certainly must have been a powerful north-easterly wind which swept up the tiny balloon which is only three inches tall when not inflated, on its lofty mission."

NEW LICENCE PLATES

NOW ON SALE

Sale of Ontario's new licence plates will again test human nature for three full months.

Opening day for purchasing the blue on white 1968 passenger dual purpose and motorcycle plates at all of the 280 issuing offices across the province is Friday, December 1. Expiry date for 1967 markers will be Thursday, February 29, giving motorists an extra day of grace because it's Leap Year.

Department of Transport officials are again appealing to motorists' common sense in urging them to buy their plates early. There is no reason to get stuck in so late last minute line-ups, and there definitely will be no extension beyond the February 29 deadline.

Kinsmen Plan Millionaires Nite

The Kinsmen Club of Minden held their regular meeting Wednesday November 29th, 1967, at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. The 17 members present had a very good dinner and a fine evening.

Plans were made for a Millionaire's night in February. On December 15, 1967 at the Wagon Wheel, the Kinsmen Club of Minden are having their Kin Kids Christmas party. Each Kinsmen or Kinetite will bring their own family, plus two other children, members who have no children will bring two others age limit 12 years.

The Kinsmen were given their Christmas cheer tickets to sell, the prize being $50.00 of Christmas cheer. Proceeds for Food and Toy baskets for the needy to be drawn before Christmas.

KAWARTHA KAVALIERS BRING

HONOURS TO LINDSAY AND DISTRICT

The Kawartha Kavaliers of Lindsay were judged the best band in the Grey Cup Parade on Saturday. The band has captured the provincial and national drum corps championships and Saturday they were the first drum corps in the history of Grey Cup to take part in the half-time show.

CBC officials were very pleased with the Kavaliers' part in the Grey Cup classic and suggested they be invited back again next year to take part in the half-time show.

HERE AND THERE

by FENWICK FINCH

One of the best-natured and cooperative young men I have met in some time is "Jim" Purves of the local Department of Lands and Forests. He is always willing to help any organization or group in any way they may need him. Right now "Jim" is in need of advice and fatherly assistance — he's gone and got himself engaged. Seriously though he's engaged to an extremely likeable young lady from Carnarvon, Miss Marilyn Toye so maybe she can give him all the advice and care he needs.

"Jim" our best wishes to you and Marilyn for a happy and prosperous future.

The Kawartha Cavaliers of Lindsay are to be complimented on the showing they made during the Grey Cup Parade and the skilful manner in which they started off the half-time show during the game.

Lindsay has got to be some sort of a "hard luck" place, publicity wise. During the parade, Jo. Green and Gordie Tapp were giving a running commentary on the various floats etc. They gave a full coverage until the Cavaliers hit the screen. Then what happens? both commentators miss the boat — "The Kawartha Cavaliers from Ontario way" said Jo Green and when the Cavaliers were going off screen, Gordie said, "Good luck Kawartha."

It would seem to me about time Lindsay got behind the "Kawartha Cavaliers" and gave them a bit of a boost and got some kind of public relations going for them.

* * * *

Our good friend "Phil" Graham spent a bit of time installing a new amplifier on the head of the new 200' tower — the resulting signal from Channel 9 was quite good. There is a bit of over-riding channel static that can no doubt be tuned out and when this is done the picture should be almost perfect.

"Phil" worked until almost 10:00 p.m. last Friday night on this.

* * * *

Walked down and had another look at the "Minden Centennial Project" the other night and I got to admit "Chester Snively" has a point there. The question is, "Chester" who is going to do anything about it?

It would seem a shame to keep putting off any action until something happens.

For some time now the Village has been enjoying the increased lighting supplied by the new "Mercury Vapour Lights." they fill a long-needed necessity by lighting the approaches to the town.

Some "mucklehead" has already clobbered two or three of the protective shades — if caught, they should be made cough up the necessary money to replace the shades — not let it come out of the taxpayers pocket.

These modern youngsters are something — take this one for instance. A mother told her daughter the story of the Princess and the Frog and how the Frog spent the night in the Princess' room and then turned into a handsome prince. The kid looked at her mother and said, "sheesh, I don't believe it and I'll bet her mother didn't either."

That takes care of another week — drive carefully — we want you around for Christmas.

YOUTH PULLED GUN IN FIGHT COURT TOLD

A 19-year-old Toronto youth, Glen Stamp, formerly of Haliburton in Lindsay Magistrate's court Tuesday told of a fight which resulted in charges of causing a disturbance against several persons, and a charge of possession of an offensive weapon against a Toronto youth, 20-year-old Ronald Yowart.

Among the youths charged in connection with a street fight in Haliburton, Aug. 13, were Stamp, Yowart, his 16-year-old brother Robert Yowart, Barry Berseth 21, of Toronto and Brian McKenzie 20 of Toronto.

Stamp told the court he was arguing with Ronald Yowart; he gave Yowart a push and the youth fell. Stamp said when Yowart got back up he had a revolver in his hand.

Berseth told the court he went to the scene of the fracas when he heard "someone had pulled a gun on my buddy."

McKenzie told the court he knew a fight was starting so he went over to see what was going on. He said someone pulled a gun on him. He identified Ronald Yowart as being the person with the weapon.

I told him to put it away before he hurt somebody", McKenzie related.

He said the Yowart youth replied, "You had better get out of here or I will hurt someone."

McKenzie said he kicked the revolver out of the youth's hand.

The court was told Yowart was pushed a few minutes later through the plate-glass window of a main street business.

SCOTT PAYS TRIBUTE TO PIONEERS OF AREA

"It is very fitting at this time to pay tribute to the pioneer people of Victoria County, they are very comfortable and happy here" said Victoria-Haliburton M.P. William Scott at the opening of the bed patient wing of the Victoria County Home for the Aged Wednesday.

"You people here have done so much to make our country known throughout the world as the banner country, Canada is held in envy by all other countries" the Federal member said in referring to his recent trip to Africa. "There is no place for senior citizens in Africa, a country far older than Canada" the speaker said.

Home management committee chairman William Fulton, reeve of Verulam, was chairman at the official opening and introduced Warden Jack Campbell, Lindsay Mayor John Eakins and Glen Hodgson M.P.P. who commended the Board of Management and chairman Byron Rogers on the completion of the splendid project.

SHOP AT HOME

The slogan "Buy Canadian" has become very prominent and topical in Canada over the past few years. It is brought to the people through the news mediums and has everyone thinking along these lines. It is felt that if Canadians purchase goods produced in this country it is another and dominant factor in keeping Canadians employed.

A parallel could very well be made regarding Christmas shopping in one's home community. Gift-buying is now at its height and citizens would do well to consider the benefits of making their purchases locally.

Here in Minden, the business section has shown continual development. This has been made possible by support of the local merchants who in turn invest a large share of their profits to better serve needs of the community.

It has never ceased to amaze me on the quantity and quality of merchandise in this town. Now you may hear some people say, "you can't get this here, and you can't get that here", but believe me, this is said in every town. For my money, this community is a leader, for its size when it comes to shopping.

Purchasing at home is an investment which produces all kinds of beneficial results, both directly and indirectly. For instance, for my money, the success, of a main street, regardless of what town you live in, describes the success of the community and everyone living in it. The business people are the ones who carry the load in taxes, club service work, donations, employment — these four items involve everyone, one way or another.

Like the business people, who do everything in their power to keep the townspeople and the tourists happy, it is also the townspeople responsibility as good citizens, to support the businessmen. With harmony and co-operation, between the businessmen and the people, everyone will benefit.

This town probably boasts of a most complete line of business, to be found in any town of its size. We have everything from furniture to sporting goods; from clothing to cosmetics; from hair stylists to hardware; from snowmobiles to souvenirs.

Christmas is a great time of year — and we must say an excellent time of year to help another. In buying Canadian and in buying at home, everyone around you will be effected and bettered, in one way or another. As a community separated by many miles from others, we should join hands and build a greater future, one way of course is to keep our money within the boundaries of our community.

Shopping at home during the Christmas season is an excellent time for citizens to display their faith and appreciation of and in local services and development.

For a better community and a better future for one and all — shop locally.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

December 5, 1967.

Dear Sir:

It is not my desire to enter into controversy or to refute what others have said or written. But I do think we need to take a good look at a few cold, hard facts. It would seem that Mr. Cross, in replying to Mr. Brubaker is suggesting that we should do evil that good may come.

I am sure the Minden Area Businessmen's Association are really convinced that freer access to liquor — serving it by the glass with meals and at the bar — will usher in a much longed for prosperity. There is no doubt that this would benefit a few — those directly connected with sale, serving and handling of liquor — but the majority of the residents would be adversely affected by new outlets.

Mr. Cross seems to imply that we would stand a better chance of keeping our young people in the county if we could bring this area up to the economic position it should enjoy. This is to be accomplished by voting in more liquor facilities. If we are really concerned for our young people and our community at large, why choose a means of employment for them that has such high potential for evil and detriment? What this area needs is industry that our young people can throw their lives into without the fear of becoming enslaved by habits that can wreck them materially, physically, morally and spiritually.

We trust that this vote will show without doubt that we still have citizens in this area who are aware of the power for evil there is in the too easy access to liquor, and fear it like they would any other plague.

A number of our citizens are deeply concerned and have recently met to organize a "Vote No" campaign. We believe many of our residents would be disappointed if we were not to rise to the occasion and champion their cause. We also believe we have a moral and spiritual obligation to inform and encourage, as best we can, those who feel as we do, that our existing facilities and outlets for the sale of liquor are entirely adequate to meet the needs of those who wish to indulge. We are not trying to close existing outlets, but are opposed to additional ones being opened.

Sincerely Yours,

L. Schmitt

SATELLITES TRACK POLLUTION

Satellites circling the globe may soon be helping to solve some of the problems of pollution.

According to the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration, satellites have already traced the dismal course of Texas sewage discolouring the Gulf of Mexico. They have photographed long puffs of smoke from United States factories and forest fires, and have even shown the smoky plume from an explosion which blew up an oil pipeline in the Sinai desert.

graph pollution and relay the picture to earth by television, they can also tell what the polluting substance is by detecting electronically its light reflecting qualities.

The importance of the NASA photographs is that they give man idea of the complex, little-understood patterns of pollution. From our lowly vantage point on the earth's crust, we see only bits and snatches of the big picture. Such things as upper air wind patterns elude us.

The polluted air from Megalopolis — that supercity stretching from Washington, D.C., to Portland, Maine — has been accused of polluting all the air east of the Appalachians to some degree, but no one really has facts and figures on the full extent of the problem.

In recent years the growth and concentration of population and industry, the development of new products and changing land uses and practices have revealed an enormous gap between the technology for creating goods and our technology for disposing of the wastes incurred in their manufacture, reports the Federation of Ontario Naturalists.

A life worth living depends on an environment worth living in. Pollution control programs aimed at registering our polluted environment must look to technology for the answers to the massive problem of waste abatement and control.

BOWLING HI-LITES

Tuesday, U.C.W Ladies afternoon Bowling League Team Standings: Charlotte, 31 Deane, 33, Ina 35, Mary Cox 46, Mary L. 36, Maud 29.

These ladies are very good bowlers as Verna Wagg got a 313 flat on November 28, and Helen Cox another 305 flat December 5 each winning the "Complimentary Board" of Gelert Gardens, Dominion Hotel and Robmar Salon, plus the "cokes". I must say though Helen does have a problem with foul lights, but so far it hasn't harmed her big Scores.

Team Standings - Carole 34, Shirley 36, Dianne 37, Jeanne 35, Roberta 32, Doris 36.

Last week Nola Donalko rolled a 290 flat, not quite enough for the Diners etc.

We now have the foul lights working so beware bowlers.

MINDEN BANTAMS DROP FIRST TWO GAMES

The Minden Bantams have had their share of disillusion so far this year they have dropped their first two games.

The Haliburton bantams managed 11 goals against the locals, while keeping Minden scoreless. In Bobcaygeon on Saturday, December 2, the Minden club was beaten 12-2.

Scoring the two for Minden was Bev. Hicks, on a penalty shot and Scott Havey.

Scoring for Bobcaygeon was McGann with four goals, Fawcett two, Czeraky two, House, James and Arvott with singles.

Coach Don Campbell, however is very optimistic, and is looking for wins when they play teams in their own category. He also thinks when ice is available here in Minden the team will be able to practice more often.

SPORTS

WITH BOB BEENEY

Vince De Vita of North York found getting Grey Cup tickets difficult so he called his own little Grey Cup Game.

Mr. De Vita had seen the cup game every year for 16 years but this year he found it difficult to get a ticket. The Toronto Argonaut Football Club had returned his request for a ticket since only tickets were provided to subscribers who held tickets for nineteen years.

De Vita and his friends got a donated bleacher, gallons of pop, hotdogs, and a lend of three television sets. They printed up tickets at the Cup price of $4.40 each. On Saturday over a hundred of them gathered in De Vita's back yard and watched the game and also raised over six hundred dollars that will go to the Ontario Crippled Children's Centre.

One reason that I have included this story in the column is to show what can be done with a little promotion and a lot of enthusiasm.

The Minden Bantams took on the Bobcaygeon Bantams last Saturday afternoon and were swamped by a 12-2 score. This is the second loss the team has suffered being defeated in their first game by Haliburton.

The peewees were scheduled to play Oakwood last Saturday night but due to the death of the Oakwood coach the game was cancelled.

I understand that Coboconk and Kinmount will make application to enter the O.M.H.A. in the peewee and Bantam divisions. This will round out these two leagues and make the league more even and competitive.

The coaches clinic that was held in Bancroft two weeks ago will possibly be tried again in Brighton. Don Maddocks of Belleville has promised to inform the Minden Minor Hockey Association when the clinic is confirmed and what time it will take place.

I have noticed that some youngsters playing in minor hockey aren't properly equipped for the game of hockey. It is understood that sometimes financially it is impossible to outfit a boy with a complete uniform. However, I do suggest hockey gloves or some other type of glove is necessary. Some children have been on the ice with bare hands and this is only asking for trouble. Well fitted skates that are sharp and with good laces are also a must.

Business In Minden

MINDEN TIRE SALES AND SERVICE
WISE AND EFFICIENT SERVICE

The Minden Tire Sales and Service was started back in 1947, by two brothers, Harold and Eldon Deacon. To this day, these two men are still operating this garage in the heart of Minden.

After 20 years in business, Harold explained, "we try our best to give wise and efficient service to our many customers." Both Harold and Eldon have their "A" licence for mechanical work. At present Jim Burke is serving his apprenticeship and trying examinations for his mechanics papers. Ron Arbuthnot was another boy who the Deacon brothers trained, who now has his licence.

The Deacon brothers have always had a keen interest in the community, serving in many capacities.

Harold is a past Rotarian, and is presently serving on the Board of Stewards in the United Church here. He has been an ardent member of the Minden Curling Club, and like most business people lend a willing hand when asked to help on any community project. He first started as a mechanic in Lindsay in 1938.

Eldon served overseas as dispatcher in the Canadian Air Force for four years. He is volunteer Fire Chief here in Minden, and a member of the Kinsmen Club. Last year he was selected as "Kinsmen of the year". He has also been a member of the Minden Curling Club.

Like most of the male population in this district, the Deacon brothers are keen hunters, and each spend a week in the hunt camps each fall.

Besides the garage business, the Deacons have two school buses, which keep them both busy each day. They have been in the school bus business since 1957, at which time they drove the children in cars. In 1963 they purchased two buses, which are still in operation.

From 1953 to 1961 Minden Tires Sales had the Dealership for Ford Cars and Trucks, this was later dropped, since dealerships are difficult to manager in such a small community.

A town such as this can well boast of two brothers such as the Deacons, who are keen citizens of the community.

IF WE ONLY UNDERSTOOD

Could we only draw the Curtain, that surrounds each others lives,
See the naked Heart and Spirit, know what spur to action drives
Often we should find it better, purer than we judge we should.
We would Love each other better,
if we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds by motives, see the good and bad within,
Often we should love the sinner,
all the while we loathe the sin,
We would judge each other's errors, with more patient charity.
If we knew the cares and trials knew the efforts all in vain,

And the bitter disappointments, understood the loss and gain,
Would the grim, external roughness, seem, I wonder, just the same

Should we help where now we hinder, should we pity where we blame?

Ah, we judge each other harshly,
knowing not life's hidden force,
Knowing not the fount of action
less turbid at its source, Seeing not amid the evil, all the golden grains of good,
Oh, we'd love each other better,
if we only Understood.

T-B A BURNING ISSUE

As a taxpayer, what would be your reaction if someone proposed burning down a sixteen-roomed consolidated school?

It sounds wild, but last year a group of Canadian Taxpayers seriously advocated just that. They weren't in the majority, and they were persuaded not to do it but they weren't fooling when they suggested it.

The suggestion was made because 32 of the children in their 16-room school developed tuberculosis. Some of them were very sick indeed before their disease was discovered.

That is enough to frighten any sensible community. In fact, it would be a very irresponsible community if it were not frightened. And when the parents recovered from the first shock they were very wise about it.

The first thing they did was to learn more about tuberculosis. Like a great many other communities in Canada the people thought TB was pretty well controlled. Quite a lot of people had felt, for example, that really, it didn't matter whether one went to the tuberculin-testing surveys or not.

One of the things they learned was that despite so many of their children having to go to sanatorium things could have been a lot worse if there had not been systematic tuberculin-testing surveys in recent years. It was a routine tuberculin survey, carried on by the health department, which alerted them to the danger. The public health nurses, on a routine check up, found that eleven children who had been negative to the test when it was done before were now positive — which showed contact with someone spreading TB germs.

The whole school was immediately tuberculin tested again, and all those who were positive to the test had a chest X-ray. There were some frightened parents when they found how many had to go to sanatorium. There were also some pretty serious looking staff members at the sanatorium when they found how many of these teenagers had positive sputum — which means they were infectious.

Still, there was one thing for which to be thankful — they had been found. If it hadn't been for the routine tuberculin testing there is no telling how long it might have been before their disease was discovered.

Naturally a great many other boys and girls had been infected. So had some of the teachers, and people such as the hairdresser who saw a great deal of the girls. Because of the regular tuberculin testing the health department knew who had been infected recently. Some idea of the size of the problem can be estimated from the fact that more than 200 persons are receiving drugs to prevent breakdown.

This happened in a prosperous community where children and parents were well nourished and there were comfortable homes — the kind of community where we are inclined to presume that tuberculosis epidemics could not occur. This one should be a warning to us all.

ROTARY CORNER

The jack-pot numbers this week for the Bingo fans are 55 numbers for the $400 and 49 numbers for the special $100 game.

The Rotary Club of Minden will be giving more money away in the very near future. On Friday evening December 22 judges will be out once again deciding who has the best decorated home in the Minden Area. The decorations of course are in keeping with the Christmas theme, with $15.00 going to the number one home, and $10.00 going to the home finishing second.

Our Christmas trees are few this year, however they can be purchased for $2.00 at either Dollos IGA or Walt Widemans.

Dr. Fred Griffiths supplied the program at Rotary this week, the Dr. showed slides of castles in California and Mexico. They were very interesting, describing luxury living at its best.

The Dr. has a fine speaker lined up for next week, Mr. Allan McPhail will be with us talking on his recent visit to Russia.

Old Santa will be on hand Monday, December 18th, this is when the Rotarians invite their children and others to the club meeting for a Christmas party. Cartoons will be a feature of the party this year.

Rotarians here always welcome the Haliburton members down to make up meetings, this week Dwaine Barry, Curry Bishop and Jan Augustien were our guests.

DAVE BAILEY A PORTRAIT IN COURAGE

Dave Bailey and Canadian track and field buffs will always remember June 11, 1966. That was the date this dark-haired Toronto youngster — then just another distance runner — became Canada's only four minute miler.

The seeting was the San Diego invitational track meet and his accomplishment stamped him as probably the comeback kid of Canadian amateur sports of the decade. It couldn't be possible, said Canadians who were familiar with his physical ailments — hairline fractures of both legs suffered three years earlier and loss of sight in his right eye from a childhood accident.

But he did it with a clocking of 3:59.1 and the feat will be recalled on Monday, December 4, when the Ontario Government sports advisory committee honors athletes for excellence in amateur sports during Canada's Centennial year.

Hundreds of youngsters, men and women will be awarded specially-struck medals at the function to be held at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto.

Bailey, a pharmacy student at the University of Toronto, will get his medal as the Canadian 1,500-metre champion, a title he won in the 1967 Pan-American Games trials and Canadian championships at Saskatoon, Sask., last June. He also came up with his second sub-four-minute mile this year in Toronto.

The story of this determined young man really started in August, 1963, when he collapsed with bad legs. X-rays were taken months later and disclosed he had suffered hairline fractures of both limbs.

The disability wasn't serious enough to keep him off his feet and he walked to school — 2½ miles daily — in a determined effort to rebuild his legs. Track experts said it was futile, that he would never come back. But he returned to the track in a year and started from the bottom in his training.

Six months later he realized his ambition at San Diego. Many other Canadians had gone out to become the country's first four-minute man, including Bruce Kidd of Toronto, Bill Crothers of Markham, Ont., and Jimmy Irons of Brampton, Ont. They had come close but they couldn't crack the barrier.

Bailey turned to track after losing sight of his right eye when a knife slipped as he tried to pry a nail loose from a tree. The accident left him with lack of depth perception.

He can't see runners coming up on the right side. "I can only see them on the right after they're a foot or so ahead of me," he says. "I've been beaten a couple of times at the tape because of this."

Coach Fred Foot of Toronto who terms Bailey's comeback "a miracle" says his protege is "just another good runner who has beaten the four-minute mark." But he adds:

"The good runners usually start to click when they reach 23. Dave will be there."

Other track experts are inclined to agree.

THE UNINVITED GUEST

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Minden, Ontario

December 3, 1967

Dear Sir;

After reading last weeks Editorial I feel I must write this letter and hope you will print it.

I have lived in this lovely village for over 30 years and have always found the people ready to give a helping hand, kind and considerate. Perhaps thoughtlessness is one of our failing, but to my knowledge no one here would ever knowingly hurt or injure another person unjustly.

Re-the last paragraph in your editorial, I, like the majority of the people, did not know in time that Paul had an operation, for cards to be sent, but I'm sure many Prayers were said on his behalf once it was known. I'm also sure that all will be glad to know that he may be home by now, but all will be sorry to hear that he has to be a brave little boy once more for an operation again in February.

It is the duty of all the members of this charge to be present at the meeting, regardless of how they feel. The Jury you mentioned cannot have pre-tried the case for the Jury does not assemble until Thursday Dec. 7th as the final verdict must come from the Congregation. We appoint the Session to represent us, yes but I believe that in calling this meeting the Session feel that we the people must "have equal opportunity to voice our opinions" quote.

Remember Sir, we also are strong believers of Justice and Fair Play and because of this will not condemn unjustly, because I am sure that Rev. Jim will not as you said be "Rail-roaded" but that all things will be taken into consideration and that much thought and Prayer will be given to the final verdict.

My Father was a Minister of this charge, and I speak with knowledge when I say "A Ministers life is never an easy one." Ministers are not supposed to be like ordinary people, they are placed on a special shelf, if they stay on that shelf they displease some, if they step off and become part of the crowd, they displease others, but one thing all seem to forget is that Ministers are human and often lead a lonely life because of our lack of understand. One question we should all ask ourselves is "If I were the Minister what would I do, how would I act?" God forgive us for I'm sure none of us could measure up to what we demand of a Minister.

I will close with the hope that the members of the congregations will not fail to be present on Dec. 7th for we are the Jury and must make the final decision.

Matthew 7 Verse 1.

Mrs. Irene Moore.

EDITORS NOTE

We appreciate your letter re the United Church meeting, December 7th at 8 p.m. However, you must understand that the session wanted Rev. Jim to resign without a meeting. They were forced to call the congregations to this meeting and ask for their opinion.
